DEBRA AITKEN
CEO
Transom

Debra Aitken has more than 30 years of experience in commercial real estate in the U.S. and Canada. She has helped San Diego companies pivot after launching her commercial move planning and relocation services firm, Transcom in 2020. In 2021, Aitken was endorsed by major office landlord Irvine Company to support their customers by guiding them in creating safe return-to-work plans. Working with Wright Management before Transom, Aitken drove and executed value-add corporate and industrial relocation and FF&E management and created and implemented a leasing and marketing program for the firm's successful, high-end multifamily infill development project. She has been a force in the growth of CREW San Diego, a nonprofit organization dedicated to advancing the careers of women in commercial real estate. She served two terms as its president, chaired its CREWMates Mentorship program and helped grow its platform, served as a mentor and filled other support and advisory roles. debraaitken@msn.com (858) 242-7706

COLLEEN ANDERSON
Executive Director
San Diego Tourism Marketing District

Colleen Anderson is a hospitality industry professional with nearly three decades of experience. Anderson's leadership was crucial to helping navigate the tourism industry's recovery following pandemic shutdowns. She was a bridge for city and tourism industry leaders and played a pivotal role in the timely release of $15 million in Tourism Marketing District reserve funds. These funds allowed strategic destination marketing to launch immediately once leisure travel re-opened, which helped put San Diego in the top three U.S. travel destinations and first in the western region through Labor Day 2021. Anderson has overseen a robust education and outreach communications program, Tourism Matters, designed to engage with hotel leaders, industry employees and city leaders, helping deepen the understanding of the critical role that the SDTMD plays in the economic health of the tourism industry and the benefit tourism provides to San Diego residents. Anderson helps mentor the next generation of hospitality students by speaking to them about hospitality careers and providing hands-on experience.

DR. RANJEETA BASU
Professor of Economics
Cal State San Marcos

Dr. Ranjeeta Basu joined CSUSM in 1994 as an assistant professor of economics, earning the rank of full professor in 2010. Basu was co-chair of CSUSM's Strategic Planning Committee, charged with seeing that the university's campus community is dismantling barriers and is committed to a place of true belonging for every student. The committee's efforts led to a recently launched new strategic plan. She serves as co-chair of CSUSM's Sexual Harassment Taskforce, which is reviewing policies, procedures and training as well as recommending strategies to improve the communication and transparency in these areas. Basu leads a mindfulness practice group on campus, helping to foster a community of awareness and appreciation for the experiences of others through contemplative practices, pedagogy and research. She helped lead and direct CSUSM's cluster-hire initiative, which ensures that faculty of color have a community of peers to help build their research interests and pedagogical concerns.

AMY BRUTTO
Principal
Marsh McLennan Agency

Amy Brutto has 35 years in the healthcare/ insurance industries. Brutto has a strong background in insurance and risk management and works directly with clients by providing strategic guidance and counsel in the areas of property, casualty and executive liability. She specializes in client retention and business development. She has ranked No. 3 in top female business insurance producer/sales professional in MMA's West region, and in the top 10 nationally. She is ranked No. 13 in MMA's West region with $4.7 million in revenue in 2021. Brutto assisted her clients in obtaining more than $200 million in claims recovery primarily in the areas of event cancellation due to COVID-19, cyber liability and medical professional liability claims. She was nominated for a "Boys to Men" grant for Barney & Barney Foundation, the charitable foundation of MMA West, and won the largest grant award of $50,000. She is a board member for the Special Olympics of Southern California. amy.brutto@marshm-ma.com (619) 871-0852

MARY CHEEKS
President and General Manager
Jamul Casino

Mary Cheeks has 30 years in the casino gaming industry. She has risen to the top of the casino management ladder, as a casino president and general manager, a feat accomplished by only a small percentage of women. Cheeks has demonstrated her expertise in guiding Jamul Casino to become a regional leader in one of the nation's most competitive Indian gaming markets and has overseen two successful refinances of the casino during the pandemic, setting up the Jamul Casino and Jamul Indian Village tribe for long-term financial success. Cheeks developed and implemented several growth strategies, including opening a new Poker Room; opening The Rooftop event venue; and renovating Jamul Marketplace and the High Limit VIP rooms. She has overseen annual campaigns to support breast cancer research and veterans organizations. Since the pandemic, she has also prioritized supporting healthcare workers with donations to Sharp Grossmont Hospital, Southern Indian Health Council, Inc., and Indian Health Council, Inc. Adela de la Torre serves as SDSU's president, overseeing a campus with more than 35,000 students and 9,700 faculty and staff. SDSU obtains more than $145 million annually in external research funding and is also designated as a Hispanic serving institution. De la Torre leads a community that is supported by an annual budget of nearly $1 billion for SDSU and its auxiliaries. She has championed and led the acquisition, construction and advancement of one of the largest public-private developments in the California State University system – the 166-acre SDSU Mission Valley campus and Innovation District. De la Torre is the first woman and first Latina to serve as president of SDSU. She began her tenure in June 2018 and has demonstrated expertise in public-private partnerships, diversity and inclusion and STEM education. The granddaughter of Mexican immigrants, de la Torre holds appreciation for cultural traditions, the importance of family, hard work and the transformative power of education. president@sdsu.edu (619) 594-5201

MONIQUE DUMAIS-CHRISOPE
Senior Vice President, Chief Information Officer
Encore Capital Group

Monique Dumais-Chrisope has worked in the IT industry for more than 20 years. Throughout the pandemic, her leadership has shined through with the company operating seamlessly through technology, allowing colleagues around the world to continue extending support to consumers while staying connected to each other. She helped in the migration of 4,000 employees to a remote work environment with zero impacts to the business, followed by a successful return-to-office while ensuring company assets were secured and current without business interruption. A C-suite female leader, Dumais-Chrisope is an advocate for women pursuing careers in the IT field. She is co-champion for the company's Women@Encore and Allies, a company Employee Resource Group with four key pillars – Fellowship, Connections, Developing Female Talent and Community involvement. She joined SIM San Diego and is a member of the virtual roundtable committee bringing relevant topics to technology leaders in the San Diego area.

LAURIE FISHER
Founder and CEO
LMA Marketing and Advertising

Laurie Fisher has spent 35 years in marketing, all in San Diego. Fisher began her career in 1987 at a San Diego radio station while still attending San Diego State University. She has worked for Clear Channel, Jacor Broadcasting, Gannett and KFMB. Fisher opened LMA Marketing and Advertising in 2004 and has remained in business since. LMA experienced growth in 2021 and into 2022. In that time LMA has seen a 14% growth in business and 100% employee retention with no layoffs. Fisher does pro bono work and donates time and resources to nonprofits including Shabbat San Diego, Second Chance, Classic for Kids, the Chamber of Purpose, The Kindness of Initiative and the Clarity Foundation. Fisher pushed through 2021 and early 2022 after losing her father, her 16-year-old dog, her brother-in-law and then her father-in-law. These setbacks served to remind Fisher about how precious life and family are to her. Married with two daughters and three grandchildren, Fisher continues to devote almost all of her free time to her 91-year-old mother.

PATRICIA JUZA

Associate Dean, Executive Director of Student Affairs and International Programs
UC San Diego, Division of Extended Studies

Patricia Juza has worked in the overlapping industries of higher education and international affairs for nearly 30 years. After a change in leadership at UCSD Extended Studies last year, Juza began overseeing the division's student affairs, adding a new layer to her responsibilities as associate dean of international affairs programs. The new assignment required her to implement ever-changing COVID-19 protocols for the different student populations enrolled in extended studies. Juza advocated for students across programs and age groups, working to ensure each had adequate support based on their specific educational needs. In 2022, at the request of the Ministry of Education of Kazakhstan, Juza developed the Leadership Academy for International Professionals, which provides mid-career high achievers from Kazakhstan with targeted industry classes, guest lectures, leadership and communication seminars, research projects and unpaid internships in the San Diego region. Healthcare professionals, government officials, university leaders, data scientists and business experts are among the first cohort and will learn and gain experience that will benefit their organizations and initiatives in Kazakhstan. pjuza@ucsd.edu (858) 246-4878

Our Strong Foundation is the Result of Many

This honor from the SDBJ is accepted with pride and dedicated to the amazing team of WOMEN I have had the pleasure of working with throughout my career in early childhood development.

Children's Paradise is dedicated to creating a place where WOMEN support other WOMEN by expanding career opportunities and economic equality. We are a powerful, courageous group of WOMEN on a mission to improve the livelihoods of each other. Our jobs reward us every day with love, appreciation and support from the children and families we serve.

We continue to work tirelessly—creating developmentally appropriate curriculum, beautiful centers and a network of family support. Operational systems help our schools sparkle and shine while providing healthy, safe and professional environments. Employee wellness programs also encourage us to take ownership in the work we do.

PATRICIA MELZER
*President and Founder
A Passion for Care*

Patricia Melzer has been doing in-home caregiving for seniors for 12 years. She has created a culture of comprehensive care management so family members understand their loved ones are well taken care of. The company got its start by bootstrapping, and has grown every year since its beginning. Melzer recruited and developed a management team including director of care management, director of operations, scheduler, recruiter and office help. She ensures the quality of home care by recruiting only the best caregivers who provide comprehensive care management. Melzer successfully guided the company through the challenges of Covid-19 without any service interruption. After 23 years in the computer industry, Melzer was motivated by personal experience. After watching chronic conditions, dementia, and surgeries take over the life of her once very intelligent and lively mother-in-law, she saw the enormity of need for better in-home care. Melzer has been an Aging in America Conference Speaker four years in a row and also served as chair of the San Diego Regional Home Care Council. pat@apassionforcare.com (858) 798-5005

Diane Dee Navarro has 30 years of experience in the senior care industry and is a certified director of assisted living. Her career has continued to grow into positions of increasing responsibility and authority, all as she has raised twin boys. After her sons graduated from high school and started college, Navarro began to mentor new executive directors. That ultimately resulted in her promotion to a regional operations executive. Navarro's servant-leader approach has made an impact on the staff at Westmont Living in La Jolla, and she was recently promoted to vice president of operations overseeing the entire portfolio of communities in California and Oregon. Navarro oversaw the opening of two assisted living/memory care communities during the middle of the pandemic. She also provided emotional support to managers and front-line staff during the tougher times of the pandemic. Navarro coordinated vaccine clinics at several assisted living communities within Westmont Living and coached underperforming communities to thrive in the markets they serve.

SAUNDRA PELLETIER
*CEO
Evoform Biosciences*

Saundra Pelletier has been in the biotech industry for more than 25 years. As CEO of Evoform Biosciences, Inc., a San Diego-based company revolutionizing healthcare with game-changing products that are meeting the unmet needs of millions of women, Pelletier is responsible for the launch of Evoform's highly anticipated first commercial product: Phexxi, the only FDA-approved, non-hormonal, on-demand contraceptive. Pelletier is also leading the development of EVO100, Evoform's investigational product currently in a Phase 3 clinical trial for the prevention of chlamydia and gonorrhea in women, two common sexually transmitted infections for which there are no prescription products available. Since 2015, she has been responsible for Evoform's rapid growth and evolution, including the company's transition to the public market in January 2018 and multiple equity financing rounds that have raised $491 million. Pelletier in 2020 joined the board of directors of TRACON Pharmaceuticals, a San Diego-based clinical stage biopharmaceutical company focused on the development and commercialization of novel targeted cancer therapeutics; she is the chair of the Governance Committee and a member of the Audit Committee.

CHÉRI PIERRE
CEO
Computers 2 Kids

Chéri Pierre channeled her commitment and passion for advocating for the technologically underserved to lead Computers 2 Kids to become the top computer refurbisher in the nation, distributing more than 85,000 computers during the COVID-19 pandemic. Her commitment and passion for advocating for the technologically underserved, along with creating strong partnerships within the community bridges the digital divide by providing computers locally and nationally to the digitally disenfranchised, helping reduce educational inequities. Through her leadership in the digital inequity sector, Pierre secured San Diego as one of 10 cities in the U.S. for a device access project through AT&T and Digitunity, from October 2021 to October 2023. Pierre developed a Technology Assistance Program mobile app, ensuring anyone with a phone has access to low-cost internet and devices. In partnership with the Lucky Duck Foundation, she created an employment and on-the-job training program in technology, tech support, and warehouse operations, expanding C2K's reach in helping people experiencing homelessness into a productive work environment. info@c2sdk.org (858) 200-9790

DANETTE ROBERTS
Area Finance Officer
Southern California Permanente Medical Group

Danette Roberts has worked for Kaiser Permanente for 44 years, overseeing financial operations for over 1,500 Southern California Permanente Medical Group physicians. She meets monthly with medical group administrators to review physician and ancillary payroll, time off, sick leave, indirect work, redeployment of physician and ancillary staff. Roberts is considered a critical "sphere of influence" at Kaiser Permanente San Diego, advocating the importance of access, service and quality for the more than 630,000 lives in San Diego by creating ownership for the medical group. Affordable healthcare to patients is paramount and the physicians control costs to help maintain affordability. She has a unique ability to collect and consolidate information in ways that translate to meaningful connections with the people she works with: physicians, nurses, administrators, staffers, patients and their families. Roberts has advocated successfully for equitable, inclusive healthcare services access (colon cancer screening) in the South County San Diego through physician and ancillary staffing needs and outside contracting.

DR. NANCY ROHLAND-HEINRICH.

MIA ROSEBERRY
Executive Director
Wounded Warrior Homes

Mia Roseberry has been in the nonprofit industry for 13 years. A survivor of a serious automobile accident when she was a child that left her with permanent hearing loss, Roseberry understands first-hand about the effects of mild Traumatic Brain Injury and the effort that it takes to return to a normal life. Her aim in founding Wounded Warrior Homes is to alleviate the growing stress of unsheltered veterans in California by providing transitional housing to those with Post Traumatic Stress and Traumatic Brain Injury. San Diego has one of the highest populations of veterans, and also one of the highest number of homeless veterans. Wounded Warrior Homes provides them with a safe environment of support and supplemental services to aid them in transitioning to the home front. Roseberry has a background in special education. She has further education and certificates in nonprofit management and planned giving, interpersonal communications for fundraising and developing major gifts. She opened Wounded Warrior Homes' fourth home in March 2022. The Oceanside house is an accessory dwelling unit that will provide transitional housing for post-9/11 veterans.

DEBRA ROSEN

President/CEO
North San Diego Business Chamber

Debra Rosen has worked in the nonprofit industry for 17 years. She has been president and CEO of the North San Diego Business Chamber for 13 years. Rosen lobbies for businesses and communities in the San Diego region with an emphasis on job growth, business retention, expansion, equity in the workplace and military transition. She is credited with the turnaround of two underperforming nonprofit organizations through the development and implementation of strategic revenue strategies, restoring program profitability and winning market share in competitive regions. She managed the chamber out of massive debt and led it to being recognized as one of the few Five-Star U.S. Chamber accredited organizations in California — and the only one in San Diego. She led the management team and board in identifying critical issues, reduced and streamlined overhead expenses, paid off enormous debt that carried liens against the organization and increased member retention to a consistent 83% annually. drosen@sdbusinesschamber.com (858) 922-1766

CHRISTINA ROUSH

Managing Principal San Diego and Nevada
Cushman & Wakefield

Christina Roush has been in commercial real estate for more than 30 years. Appointed to the role of managing principal of Cushman & Wakefield's operations in San Diego in April, she oversees the strategic business growth of Cushman & Wakefield's San Diego offices. Roush also serves as Cushman & Wakefield's managing principal for Nevada, a role she's held since mid-2018. Under her guidance, the firm experienced strong, exponential business and revenue growth in Nevada where it is now recognized as a top real estate firm in the state. Roush also leads — and partnered to build — Cushman & Wakefield's Private Capital Group currently in 12 key markets in the western U.S., which transacted more than $2 billion in 2021. Roush is a board member for the Commercial Real Estate Association – NAIOP. Previously she has served on numerous community, civic and nonprofit boards including Boys & Girls Clubs, the City of Las Vegas Planning Commission and the Downtown Vegas Alliance. christina.roush@cushwake.com (702) 605-1380

DEANNA SMITH
President | CEO
Deanna's Gluten Free

Deanna Smith had never baked a loaf of bread in her life. Her background was in marketing. So when she heard her 3-year-old cousin was put on a gluten-free diet, she went straight away to make her some bread. There was one problem ... not a single culinary school offered gluten-free training. After formulating countless batches of gluten-free 'bricks,' she finally created one the best tasting, truly natural breads in the country. Word of her creations spread. In 2008, Gluten Not Included, Inc. was born. The business, dba Deanna's Gluten Free, is one of the first 100% gluten-free baking companies in the United States with local and national distribution to grocery stores, restaurant chains, ballparks, resorts and vacation destinations. In addition to the bakery, Smith has a tiny farm where she raises chickens, turkeys and ducks, grows organic veggies for her foods and farm stand, and offers food education to K-12 students through her nonprofit, Escondido S.T.E.A.M. Centre. Deanna@DeannasGF.com
